Stars in the Past

Last Will and Testament

We, the class of 1983, make the following bequests:

To the Accounting Department — All the capital which we do not have.

To the Math Department — A box of tissues to wipe our acetates.

To the Science Department — Students who are willing to pay a lab fee.

To the Social Studies Department — A one way ticket to ancient civilization.

To the English Department — A non-ending supply of M&M's to last them through all of Hamlet, Jane Eyre, Wuthering Heights, etc.

To the Foreign Language Dept — NADA!

To the Physical Education Department — A new set of bodies to work on.

To the Business Education Department — Real Computers.

To the Music Department — A Baby Grand Piano and a good audience.

To the Art Department — Rembrandts and Picassos.

To the Home Economics Department — A full year's supply of S.O.S. pads.

To Future Walton Seniors — All the joys and heartaches we've experienced.

To Next Year's Yearbook Staff — The patience to deal with Miss Roemer's twenty-four hour notice on deadlines!

To Mr. Beiner — Our empty trays to throw away, and a dictionary.

To Mr. Leon — Urban students who like Urban Studies.

To Mrs. Brower — I.U.S. students who don't object to accelerated courses.

To Mrs. Glantz — An extra day to finish her lessons.

To Mrs. Graham — Quadruple periods of English and students with perfect grammar, spelling, punctuation, etc.

To Mr. Harrison — Students who cherish history and want to take the AP exam.

To Mr. Kleinman — Seniors who raise funds.

To Mrs. Koo — Males for Arista and Juniors who get involved.

To Mrs. Krieger — A tennis team.

To Mr. Lichtine — A purpose in life and a bigger album for all his adorable little boy's baby pictures.

To Mrs. Newman — A stack of 3x5 index cards.

To Miss Roemer — A real, honest to goodness deadline.

To Mrs. Spector — All the labs she gave back.

To Mrs. Volchok — A computer that doesn't cut.

To Miss Woods — More things to giggle about.

SENIOR DAY

Dr. Marjorie Kipp Principal

Your theme for the 1983 Yearbook is the zodiac — stars, planets, space. Much has been written about these topics, both fiction and non-fiction.

One of my favorites is John Masefield's reference to the stars — "I must go down to the Seas again, to the lonely Sea and the Sky. And all I ask is a tall ship and a star to steer her by." To the sailor the star literally gives direction. To landlubbers such as us a star may be a goal, something to look up to, to admire, to covet and to work toward, in other words a direction. As you worked your way up from freshmen, sophomores, juniors and now seniors, your star, or one of them, was that high school diploma you were working so hard to earn. Now as the distance between you and that star shortens and the goal is almost realized you will cast your eyes again to the heavens and seek new stars, new goals, new means of self realization.

Good luck and clear sailing.

Aries — The Ram

March 21-April 20

The true Aries is the captain, the leader, the pioneer, the one with new, creative ideas. Aries, confident, warm and energetic, frequently needs some assistance in carrying out those new ideas, since in their enthusiasm and haste, they often drop out the details.

AT WORK: Aries people go crazy if they feel their hands or minds are tied in an uncreative, subservient job. They'll never make it inch by inch to a corporate presidency by being reliable and responsible, since these aren't among their traits, but they'll have the most exciting, creative jobs in the company!

Taurus — The Bull

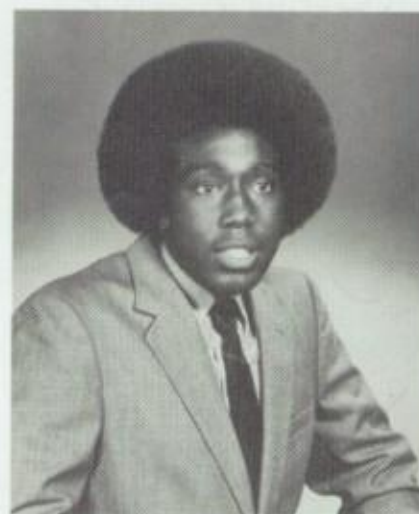

April 21-May 21

The chief characteristic of people born under Taurus is their stability of character and purpose. They are steadfast and persistent, refusing to be hustled, frightened, or pushed into a false position. System, method, routine, and regularity are important to them, and their feet never lose touch with solid ground. They have a wonderful gift of humor, and a horror of being in debt.

The chief characteristic of people born under Gemini is their intellectual energy and exuberance. They are impatient with repetition or sameness, and are famous for quick changes. Their chief talent lies in communication, and they have a strong desire to influence those around them. They are charming and witty, and their function is to make life more interesting and beautiful for themselves and others, and to stimulate, refresh, and revive the people around them.

IN LOVE: Geminis are infuriating flirts — now you see them, now you don't. They love excitement, challenge, and fun, and are uncomfortable if a relationship becomes too serious. They play the field because they're easily bored.

AT WORK: The charm, creativity, and flash of Geminis conceal very little actual drive or ambition. They hate routine and punching the time-clock, and often try to cut corners. They're often goof-offs — great for office morale but undependable in a crisis. They may have taken off for Nassau for two weeks just when you need them! They make excellent teachers, journalists, or broadcasters because of their superb ability to communicate.

- Cancer 3 -

Cancer — The Crab

June 22-July 22

Patience is the essential characteristic of people born under the sign of Cancer, the crab. When once they have seized an object and decided to have it, they would rather lose the claw than let it go. Cancers have long memories, and the history of their nations or families is enormously important to them. It follows that they never forget an injustice — or the person who did it to them — and they never forget a friend. Financially, Cancers are savers, generous, but not extravagant. They're usually saving to buy property (they love working with the earth) or paintings, and don't like taking financial risks.

IN LOVE: Cancers are the most romantic members of the zodiac. They believe in true love, faithfulness, and family, and give a great deal while asking for little in return. They have a hard time breaking off with someone if a relationship doesn't work, and keep trying to save it.

AT WORK: Cancers are the perfect teachers, because they will deliver and re-deliver the message until they have succeeded in getting the audience's attention and enthusiasm. At the office, Cancer people love to build up security and respect. They tend to be oversensitive, however, and can disrupt everything and everyone with pouting resentment if they feel misused.

Leo — The Lion

July 23-August 23

Leos are leaders, and come into life with an inner confidence that makes other people look up to them with faith and trust. Leos, in turn, have faith and trust in human nature, and believe that people will always do their best. They support both the arts and the sciences, and take an interest in the well-being of the sick and the poverty-stricken. They are wonderful hosts, throwing successful parties because they so enjoy their guests. Strangely, moods of deep depression are characteristic of many Leos, and the primitive Leos have an unquenchable thirst for personal glory. Their favorite childhood game was "Show and Tell," and they often continue this game throughout life.

IN LOVE: Susceptible to flattery, Leos like to be adored. They always seem to be in love, or just getting over being in love. They like to do the chasing, with expensive gifts and compliments, and, in return, they demand absolute faithfulness, for jealousy is their big weakness.

AT WORK: Leos adore important-sounding titles and positions of authority, and would rather have the title than a raise in pay. When they're asked to take charge, their egos insist that they measure up and do it perfectly. Leos actually are the ideal heads of any large undertaking, because they recognize the strengths and weaknesses of the people around them, and don't waste time assigning tasks to the wrong ones. Leos can't bear to be criticized — or worse — ignored.

Virgo — The Maiden

August 24-September 23

The chief characteristic of Virgos is their marvelous power of discrimination, their ability to judge things and people accurately, a trait often perceived by others as criticism. IN LOVE: Virgos are afraid of being dependent on anyone and don't open up easily, so their love affairs are few. They're unsentimental and often frightened by people who are over-emotional. If a love affair goes wrong, they take refuge in hard work.

AT WORK: Virgos are practical and unbelievably good at details, although if they try to give commands or issue orders, people are often offended. Virgos give freely and ungrudgingly of their time, strength, and ability, and will be out-spoken about who or what has gone wrong. Consequently, they make excellent managers, but often sacrifice personal relationships to work, or "duty."

Libra

Libra — The Scales

September 24-October 23

Libras' strength lies in a certain sane, well-balanced element that runs through their nature. Libras hate injustice and unfairness, and anything ugly in life, including feelings that are morbid or depressing. They like people and are themselves popular with others because of their courtesy, charm, and gentleness, but they are easily influenced by others because of their need to be liked, and often find it difficult to reach a decision because they're weighing all the possibilities. They are perfectionists who work energetically for awhile, and then relax totally until they are ready to start again.

IN LOVE: Libra is the most seductive sign of the zodiac, and all Libras are romantic charmers, immensely popular with the opposite sex. They hate to hurt anyone's feelings and find it almost impossible to say a decided no, so they frequently stay in unhappy relationships longer than they should. When the relationship is over, however, they seem to forget easily and go merrily on to the next love.

AT WORK: Libras do well in occupations dealing with art, legal matters, diplomacy, or any career in which they deal with people. They have a lot of creative ideas, great powers of concentration, and a capacity for sustained effort, but they can not ask someone else to do a job for them because of their desire for perfection. They are painstaking, patient, and particularly careful about details, so they rarely have to do anything over.

Scorpio

Scorpio — The Scorpion

October 24-November 22

Dear James. It has been real nice knowing you. Best of luck in your career and Please Stay Sweet.

*Love Always,
Arlene*

Scorpios' kingdom is the kingdom of power, power over others, as well as self-mastery. They want rapid progress for themselves and for others, and through their vitality and determination can impress their wills on other people. They are strongly psychic, and often have "hunches" and premonitions which subsequently come true. Anything that calls for strenuous effort, heroic endurance, and the breaking down of opposition and/or obstacles appeals to them. The harder the task, the better Scorpios like it.

IN LOVE: Scorpio is the sex sign of the zodiac, and people born under this sign are sensual and explosive, sometimes cruel and madly jealous. They don't flatter; they take what they want — and they cannot bear to lose. Scorpions are hard to live with because, strong and efficient themselves, they don't make allowances for the shortcomings of others.

AT WORK: Scorpions make excellent doctors because of their quiet, resolute strength, and their determination to overcome suffering, disease, and death. If they do work for a company, they do so for their own reasons, and are loyal only as long as nobody asks them to sacrifice something for the corporation.

Sagittarius

Sagittarius — The Archer

November 23-December 21

The chief characteristic of Sagittarians is an extraordinary power of mental activity. They bring their reason to bear on everything they encounter, and want to get to the bottom of it all. IN LOVE: Sagittarians are not the smoothest lovers in the zodiac, because they are frank, outspoken, and likely to explain clearly and logically why they feel as they do. However, they are sincere, idealistic, and enthusiastic. Sagittarians need variety in their relationships, intellectual companions and adventurous friends as well as lovers, and dislike being tied down. Even after they've married, they want freedom to choose other companions, so possessive or jealous mates will have a serious problem.

AT WORK: Sagittarians are ideally suited for legal work, since they have the kinds of minds which see the weaknesses in an argument immediately. The teaching of philosophy or religion is perhaps the best occupation, however, because of their interest in life. At the office, Sagittarians are highly visible because of their nosy curiosity, the millions of questions they ask, and their tendency to think big. Sagittarians want freedom — and will opt for excitement over security any day.

Capricorn

Capricorn — The Goat

December 22-January 20

Typical Capricorns take life seriously and are upholders of tradition and authority. They have an extraordinary adaptability to their environment, but desire fixed standards of conduct for themselves and others. IN LOVE: Capricorns don't like to show their vulnerability, but underneath their cool, shy exteriors, they're loving and passionate and need affection. They pretend they don't care what's happening, particularly when they're feeling open and sensitive, and they find it hard to express love verbally. They tend to look for an advantageous marriage, one that will advance them socially.

AT WORK: Capricorns are intolerant of incompetence because they're so good at conscientious work and details. They get very upset if they make a mistake — which they usually don't!

Aquarius

Aquarius — The Water-Bearer

January 21-February 19

Aquarians are unbiased and open-minded, without prejudice or superstition of any kind. They look at tradition and authority courteously and with interest, but they refuse to accept them automatically without due consideration. They are willing to learn from anyone, for the one thing they're sure of is that they don't know very much. Their one concern is always "What is the truth of the matter?" and they are not at all interested in "What is the use of this information?"

IN LOVE: Aquarians hate to conform and generally have the most liberated relationships of anyone in the zodiac! They are slow to marry because they have so many friends and are having so much fun, but, once married, they're faithful and loyal.

AT WORK: Because of their quest for truth, Aquarians make ideal scientists, for they are patient, untiring, and unbiased. Aquarians have marvelous minds and very little ambition. They're great dabblers and job-changers — love learning a skill, working their way to the top, and moving on to a new field. However, while they're around, they're conscientious and perceptive.

Pisces — The Fish

February 20-March 20

The strength of Pisces lies in their ideals and aspirations, rather than in their actions. Solitude is a luxury prized by Pisces people, who want to feel, dream, and grow according to their natures. They are extremely sensitive and often psychic, with a quick intuition but little money! Their sensitivity and strong desire for unity make them shrink from any competition, rivalry, or strife.

QUALITIES: gentle kind retiring sensitive unlucky
often melancholy

IN LOVE: Pisces is a blend of all the other signs of the zodiac, probably because it is the twelfth sign. Thus, a Pisces person is never easy to understand. In love, they're romantic to the point of impracticality — always rushing off to island vacations without a thought about the cost, suggesting marriage and babies when neither partner has a steady job. Pisces people have many friends of both sexes because they listen well to the problems of others, but they're not as self-confident as they appear to be! + true

Annette Hussey

Michelle Jackson

AT WORK: Pisces people have dreamy visions of their place in the world. They want to accomplish something great and socially useful — and they either end up as Albert Schweitzer, achieving that goal, or as the person who rolls the coffee wagon around the office at 10 a.m. because they're still awaiting their opportunity. Pisces people are often involved in the theater because their receptive minds allow them to make the playwright's words their own. Apart from the theater, they are particularly suited to enter the church, the government, the army or navy, or any service where the emphasis is on the importance of the whole rather than the individual. They generally do not do well in business!

Knowledge and wisdom are the stepping stones to a successful future.

To my little sister Violeta,

I remember when you were born. No matter how young one is, it is impossible not to remember a baby girl being born in the living room.

I remember when you started walking again after months of not being able to.

I remember always wanting to strangle anyone who tried to take advantage of you, my little sister.

Suddenly you're not little anymore, and you'll be graduating soon. You were always very proud when I did something you thought extraordinary, and now it's my turn to be very proud of you. Not only because you're graduating at the top of your class, but also because you have become such an independent and determined young lady.

Always be the person you are today, and your path ahead will be clearer.

Good Luck and
Love Always,
YOLANDA

I'll be right here . . . always.

As time has progressed,
So has our relationship.

To: Cool James

Over these past few months we have had a lot of fun buggin out in accounting class. To bad it all has to come to an end. Good luck in your future and good luck in your life of sex from (Kennie) Love

To Jeff

Although we only knew each other for about 2 years we grew knowledge of each other so its a pleasure to say congratulations!! to you because you deserve it. We both thought you 2 were in Chances together. You must realize you can't let people get the best of you because they are trying to pull you down by the stairway success so just chill out & take it easy & peace. Advise from the inside

Fortune (Shorty) Love

TO Jay, stay cool, and don't be no fool.

Love always forever (Shorty) #1 little lady
